PANCAKES RECIPE

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- Butter

Sift flour and salt into a bowl. Beat eggs and add to the milk.

Make a well in the centre of the dry ingredients and beat in sufficient liquid to form a smooth paste.

Blend in the remaining liquid to form a smooth batter.

Pour into a jug, cover and set aside for at least one hour.

To make pancakes:

Heat a small amount of butter in a small pan of about 15 centimetres diameter.

Tip excess butter out so bottom of pan is only coated.

Stir batter in jug, adding a little milk if batter has thickened. It should be the consistency of pouring cream.

Pour a little batter into the centre of the pan, rotating the pan at the same time so the batter coats the bottom, thinly and evenly.

Cook until golden brown underneath.

Toss or turn and cook the other side.

Turn cooked pancake on to a plate and cover with a cloth.

Repeat making pancakes until all the batter is used up.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING

Serves 10 to 12.

100g butter, melted
2 eggs
1 cup packed brown sugar
grated rind from 1 large lemon
grated rind from 1 orange or tangelo
3 cups mixed fruit
1 large apple, finely chopped or grated
2 cups flour
1 tsp cinnamon
½ tsp ground cloves
1 tsp baking soda
1 cup liquid (see below)

□ Heat the butter until it is liquid, then add the eggs and the brown sugar and mix well with a wooden spoon or egg beater until thoroughly combined.

□ Grate all the coloured rind from the citrus fruit. Add to the bowl with the mixed fruit, chopped or grated apple, then mix this in well.

□ Measure into a sieve, then shake into the bowl, the sifted flour, cinnamon, ground cloves, and baking soda.

□ Mix up a cup of liquid. Use the juice of the orange or tangelo, the juice of another orange or tangelo if available, but not the juice of the lemon.

□ Make this up to a cup with ¼ to ½ cup of sherry, or a mixture of sherry and rum, or whisky, or brandy. Top up with cold tea, coffee, fruit juice or soft drink, or use water if none of these flavoured liquids are available.

□ Stir the sifted dry ingredients and the liquid into the rest of the pudding mixture. The finished batter will be wetter than a cake mixture.

□ Pour mixture into one large or two smaller buttered bowls that will fit inside large pots. The mixture should no more than ¾ fill the bowl(s). Cover bowls with foil which has a pleat in the middle, in case the pudding rises more than expected. Press the foil firmly around the edges of the bowl(s).

□ Make a string circle under the rim, with a handle over the top, if this makes the bowl easier to lift from a snug-fitting pot.

□ Lower each pudding bowl onto a saucer or small plate standing in a large pot containing enough boiling water to come half way up the bowl. Cover pot tightly with its lid, bring back to the boil, then simmer gently for four hours, adding extra boiling water to the pot if the level falls. The water in the pot should not stop simmering during the first three hours of the cooking. (The last hour of cooking is not vital, but it seems to make the pudding nicer.)

□ Remove the cooked pudding from the pot, remove its foil lid, cool until just warm and quite firm, then remove from the bowl. Wrap loosely in greaseproof paper or wrap in a teatowel for storage of less than a week, refrigerate in a plastic bag up to a month, or freeze in a plastic bag for longer storage. When the pudding is required, bring it to room temperature, replace it in a buttered bowl, cover with foil again and simmer for 2 hours or longer, or
